HERE TO INSPECT THEIR PROPERTY

But Reading Authorities Do not Forget Any Improvements at Local Station. Need Shown at Time of Recent Excursion.

Prominent Reading Railway officials visited Gettysburg this morning on their regular quarterly inspection of the Harrisburg Division of the road. They left without making any statement about further plans here.

In the party were A. T. Dice, general manager; C. H. Ewing, general superintendent; R. J. Stackhouse, superintendent of the Harrisburg Division; and R. B. Abbott, division engineer. They came by special train, stayed but a few minutes, and then started on their return to Harrisburg.

The hurried departure of the party, so soon after their arrival was discouraging to those who for some time have been advocating better facilities at the local station. The necessity for more shed room was emphasized last Saturday when some 3000 Topton excursionists were caught in Gettysburg in the face of a steady drizzle and there were accommodations for but a small proportion of them at the station.

The cars afforded the only shelter provided by the railroad and most of them had to take their trains in the yards constructed for the fiftieth anniversary celebration so that they had a further walk in the dampness. The steady falling off in excursion business makes the improvement more and more remote, it is said.

All of the stations along the road from Gettysburg to Harrisburg were given the benefit of to-day's inspection, and the condition of the track was also carefully noted together with other matters of interest and importance to the successful operation of the system. The inspection takes place every three months.

MRS. HALE HERE TO MAKE SPEECH

Gettysburg Suffragists Enthusiastic over Securing Prominent Woman to Address Meeting in Court House this Evening.

Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale, actress, authoress and lecturer, arrived in Gettysburg this afternoon to give her address this evening in the Court House on the question of "Woman Suffrage". Local advocates consider themselves most fortunate in having been able to secure a woman of Mrs. Hale's prominence to present the cause to the people of town and vicinity and are using every effort to secure as large an attendance as possible at this evening's meeting which is scheduled to start at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Hale came here this afternoon on the 1:45 train from Harrisburg and was met by Mrs. Wm. Arch McClean, head of the suffrage work in this county, and by several others who are active in prosecuting the campaign here. Mrs. Hale was taken to the home of Mrs. Guyon H. Buehler, on Carlisle street, where she will be entertained during her stay in Gettysburg.

Later in the afternoon she was the guest of a number of local women for a trip over the battlefield. She was delighted with the field and with the town, and expressed her pleasure at being able to be here and advance the interests which she specially represents.

After her address in the Court House this evening an opportunity will be given all those who desire to meet Mrs. Hale to shake hands with her, and an informal reception will follow the speaking. The meeting will be open to the public and no admittance fee will be charged. A collection will be taken, however, to defray in part the expenses incident to Mrs. Hale's visit here.

She will return to Harrisburg at eleven o'clock Friday morning.

The bride wore an imported traveling suit of African brown chiffon broadcloth with trimmings of beaver fur and hat to match with two birds of paradise plumes. Her corsage bouquet was of orchids and Mexican ivy and she carried an ivory-bound prayer book. There were no attendants.

TWO GAMES

Prep Won while College Scrubs Lost to Navy Plebes.

The High School foot ball team lost to Gettysburg Academy on the Kurtz Playground Wednesday afternoon 7 to 0. The game was played on a water soaked field. The College Scrubs lost to the Navy Plebes at Annapolis 6-0.

The winning score was made by the Midshipmen in the second quarter, when Johnson carried the ball across after the Navy team had carried the ball from midfield without a break. Gettysburg had an excellent chance to score in the first quarter, holding the ball on the Navy's ten-yard line. Three forward passes were unsuccessful. Gettysburg tried this play at least a dozen times throughout the game, but the ball nearly always grounded.

Gettysburg had an excellent defensive end in Stitt, but lacked an effective punter. Neither goal line was in danger during the second half.

MARK HISTORIC PLACES NEARBY

Fort Loudon Sees Unveiling of Three Memorials along Lincoln Highway. People of Prominence Present for Exercises.

In the North Mountain foothill village of Fort Loudon, where Thomas A. Scott, former president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was born and reared, three monuments were unveiled and dedicated Wednesday. They mark the site of the old Fort Loudon, built against the French and Indians in 1756.

Judge W. Rush Gillan presided at the exercises and the principal addresses were by William S. Stenger, of Philadelphia, former Secretary of the Commonwealth, who was born in Loudon; Rev. Dr. George Doneho, of Coudersport, secretary of the State Historical Commission, and Rev. Dr. Cyrus Cort, of Overlea, Md.

A band supplied music and there was a parade marshaled by General W. D. Dixon.

One of the guests was Mrs. J. E. Thropp, of Bedford, daughter of the late Colonel T. A. Scott, who chose a site and made arrangements for a monument in the village in honor of her father.

Among other guests were Rev. James Mullan, of Baltimore, a native son, and other men of prominence born in the shadow of the Kittichtinny Peaks. The monuments face along the Lincoln Highway and are of granite with bronze tablets.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Golden, son, Miss Anna Golden and Miss Thea Golden, all of Bonneauville, met with an accident, Sunday, while on a motor trip to York. As they were about to cross the trolley track at Bruchtown, a car came from McSherrytown toward Littlestown and, to avoid a collision, Mr. Golden ran his machine into the fence nearby. The auto turned over on the side, throwing the occupants out, but fortunately no one was injured. The trolley stopped and the employees went back to assist Mr. Golden.

Gettysburg Women Make Addresses at Meeting of Missionary Society in York. Hear of Encouraging Increase in Membership.

A substantial increase in membership was the key note of the reports made Wednesday evening by nearly 100 delegates to the thirty fourth annual convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the West Pennsylvania synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church, which began its sessions in the St. Matthew's Lutheran church, York, in the afternoon. Gettysburg and the various churches of the county have many delegates in attendance. The evening's service was featured by an address by the national president, Mrs. Iva A. Baltzley, of Omaha, Neb.

The afternoon session was called to order by Miss Margery D. H. Lilly, of Mechanicsburg, who presided over the session. The evening session was presided over by Mrs. Albert Bell.

Mrs. Baltzley's address to the delegates was on "Personal Responsibility." She summarized her remarks by pointing out the spiritual, special and vital needs of every missionary society. In her address Mrs. Baltzley made many valuable suggestions to the delegates which she asked them to carry back to their homes. She urged each member to take a greater interest in the mission work and assume more of a personal responsibility for the work.

Mrs. J. B. Baker, of Gettysburg, made the response to the address of welcome in the afternoon and Miss Carrie Musselman made one of the talks on the necessity of effective women's auxiliaries in church work. 8 BULGAR ARMIES PRESS SERBS HARD

The Little Kingdom Faces Annihilation.

TURKISH FORCES ARE NEAR

Foe is Within 35 Miles of Nish—Russia in Bitter Manifesto Declares War on Bulgaria.

London, Oct. 21.—Latest reports from the near east indicate that Serbia is in deadly danger of being overwhelmed by the armies of her neighbors.

No less than eight Bulgarian forces have crossed into Serbian territory. Serbia faces the further peril of an attack by a Turkish army, with ample artillery, according to Salonika, which reports the Ottoman forces to be marching along the Greek-Bulgarian border. Previous Athens advices indicated the concentration of Turkish forces near Dedagach.

On the other hand Russia, which declared last week that a state of war existed between herself and Bulgaria, by reason of the latter's attack on Serbia, issued her formal declaration of war, accompanied by a manifesto filled with bitter denunciation of King Ferdinand.

The latest Bulgarian success reported is the capture of Egri Palanka, southeast of Vranja, where the Bulgarians have already succeeded in cutting the Salonika-Nish railway. Egri Palanka is thirty miles from the railway, and its capture offers the route for another advance on the railroad. The Austro-German forces are advancing slowly but steadily, their latest claim being that a junction has been effected to the west of Semendria and Vranja.

Violent fighting is in progress between Anglo-French troops and Bulgarians in the vicinity of Vranja, it is reported from Salonika, where many wounded have arrived. It is reported to have been occupied by the Bulgarians.

The main Bulgarian army under General Bozhoff is only thirty-five miles from Nish, the Serb capital.

Serbia, as a result of the swift advance of the enemy, is severed from all communication with the world, and until the allied troops, advancing by forced marches to her aid, restore the railway line, cut at this point, she must depend on her own resources alone.

Within three days, military men believe, Bulgaria, with the railroad from Vranja northward to Nish in operation, should be able to throw a large army before the capital.

The Bulgarian army which occupied Kotehana is continuing westward in spite of obstinate resistance, its evident objective being Uskub in the Vardar valley. Uskub lies at the junction of the Salonika-Nish railway and the railroad from Mitrovitza.

Hundreds of villages at Vranja are reported to have been shot by the Bulgarians. The town was set on fire and partly destroyed.

Rumor Semendria Retaken

Paris, Oct. 21.—The intrinsicable announces that a private despatch received in Paris states that Serbian troops have recaptured Semendria.

Despatches indicating a junction of the Austrian and German forces near Semendria emphasize the improbable nature of the reported recapture of the Serbian city.

KILLED ONE-LEGGED MAN

Woman Chopped Him to Pieces When He Urged Her to Elope.

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Mary Pamlas, wife of a street car conductor, surrendered to the police and was held in connection with the murder of Michael Weinstein, a cripple peddler, whose mutilated body was found in a box coach in Mrs. Pamlas' bedroom.

The peddler's body was cut into several pieces, and his wooden leg and crutch lay on top of the couch.

Mrs. Pamlas, according to the police, said she killed Weinstein with an ax when he attacked her after she refused to elope with him.

When she had stuffed Weinstein's body into the couch, Mrs. Pamlas fled from the apartment and rented another two blocks away.

The peddler showed Mrs. Pamlas $220, which he had saved, she said when he asked her to go away with him.

Mrs. Pamlas said she lived with the Weinstein family in Atlantic City, N. J., four years ago.

GERMANS CHARGING BRITISH AND FRENCH

Reinforced, Kaiser's Armies Attack, But Are Driven Back.

London, Oct. 21.—Reports from the eastern front indicate that the Germans have been reinforced heavily and are showing a disposition to assume the offensive.

Field Marshal French announces the complete repulse north of Loos of Germans who made an attack after heavy artillery preparation. Paris reports that east of Rheims the Germans made a fierce attack on a large scale, but were thrown back after occupying several French trenches.

Having failed in their attempts to drive the French out of the newly conquered positions in Champagne, the Germans turned their attention to this new region.

Here on a front of a little more than six miles from La Pompelle, one of the eastern forts of Rheims, the Germans attacked under cover of clouds of asphyxiating gas and preceded by a heavy artillery preparation.

The Germans were successful in driving the French from their first line trenches, but later in the day an energetic counter-attack recaptured all points which remained in the hands of the Germans. According to the statement of the French war office, the German losses in this ineffectual attack were heavy.

The purpose of an attack in this region can easily be understood. Prospects about five miles west of Arras, the western extremity of the recent French effective movement to Champagne.

Had the Germans been able to break through the French lines at this point they would not only have cut off the city of Rheims from the southwest, but as well would have compelled a retreat on the line further to the east; that is, they would have gained in this movement the purpose which they failed to attain in their attacks on the new French positions in Champagne.

FUMES OVERCOME EIGHTEEN

Several Were in Serious Condition from Nitric Acid.

Pottsville, Pa., Oct. 21.—Eighteen men were overcome by fumes of nitric acid at the Atlas Powder company's gunpowder works at Mt. Carbon, where war munitions are manufactured.

All were carried to the open air and, although several were in a serious condition, they are recovering.

This industry recently passed under the control of the Dupont people and has been so successful that New York capitalists visited this section seeking a site for another factory, which must be located near a stream of water and railroads.

PUTS EMBARGO ON ARMS FOR VILLA

Shipments Barred to All Mexican Foes of Carranza.

RIVAL JUNTA CLOSES SHOP

President Wilson Issues Proclamation Forbidding Munition Shipments, Except to Republic's Executive.

Washington, Oct. 21.—President Wilson declared an embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition to Mexico.

He signed a supplementary order, however, which excepts General Carranza's government from the embargo, and permits munitions to go through to him unhampered. The prohibition applies to the factions opposed to the government which the United States has recognized.

The president's proclamation is based upon the authority conferred by congress in 1912, and follows closely the terms of ex-President Taft's proclamation issued when the revolution was on against Madero. It reads:

"Whereas, a joint resolution of congress, approved March 14, 1912, reads and provides as follows: 'That whenever the president shall find that in any American country conditions of domestic violence exist which are promoted by the use of arms or munitions of war procured from the United States, and shall make proclamation thereof, it shall be unlawful to export, except under such limitations and exceptions as the president shall prescribe, any arms or munitions of war from any place in the United States to such country until otherwise ordered by the president or by congress; and

"Whereas, it is provided by section 11 of the said joint resolution that any shipment of material here by declared unlawful after such proclamation shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding $10,000 or imprisonment not exceeding two years, or both;

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, acting under and by virtue of the authority conferred in me by the said joint resolution of congress, do hereby declare and proclaim that I have found that there exists in Mexico such conditions of domestic violence promoted by the use of arms or munitions of war procured from the United States as contemplated by the said joint resolution, and I do hereby admonish all citizens of the United States of the joint resolution above set forth, hereby made applicable to Mexico, and I do hereby warn them that all violations of such provisions will be rigorously prosecuted."

"And I do hereby enjoin upon all officers of the United States charged with the execution of the laws thereof, the utmost diligence in preventing violations of the said joint resolution, and this, my proclamation, is issued thereunder, and in bringing to trial and punishment any offenders against the same."

The order for the exception in favor of the Carranza government was contained in a letter from President Wilson to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. It follows:

"My Dear Mr. Secretary: I am informed by the department of state that the recognized de facto government of Mexico is now in effective control of all ports of entry in Mexico except those along the international boundary in the states of Chihuahua and Sonora and the ports of Lower California. An exception is hereby made to the prohibition against exports created by the president's proclamation of October 19, 1915, and you will please instruct collectors of ports and other officers of the treasury department to permit to be exported through the United States custom houses munitions of war for the use of the recognized de facto government of Mexico, or for industrial or commercial uses within the limits of the territory under its effective control as above set forth.

"An embargo, therefore, will be immediately placed against the border ports in the states of Chihuahua and Sonora, as well as all ports in the territory of Lower California, whether or not controlled by the de facto government of Mexico, and you will instruct the appropriate collectors of customs and other officers of the treasury department.

"Sincerely yours,"
"WOODROW WILSON."

The Villa agency here closed its doors and the junta scattered. It was announced that in view of the recognition of General Carranza there was no further need to maintain it.

RUSSIANS FALL BACK ON RIGA BATTLE LINE

But Invaders Are Checked Along Rest of Front.

Petrograd, Oct. 21.—A new offensive has been launched by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, commanding the German forces, in the Riga region.

Despite stubborn resistance by the Russians, the Petrograd war office admitted, in an official statement, that the invaders had advanced near Mitau, on the Aa river.

However, this is the only German gain conceded by the Russian general staff along the entire eastern front. The successes won along the Sty river, by the Russians, continue unchecked. Thousands of prisoners have been taken, and the czar's troops, incensed by the use of explosive bullets by the Austro-Germans, are using the bayonet relentlessly.

There is no change in the situation around Dvinsk, where the invaders have failed to gain, despite heavy artillery support.

A despatch from Odessa says the Russian authorities have decided that the favorable turn in military affairs has made it unnecessary to carry out the evacuation of the three northern districts of the government of Bessarabia.

His message, of which the French government has been advised, was in response to cabled instructions from Secretary of State Lansing, at the request of Ambassador Jusserand.

Here's New Victor For Overworked Stomach

The People's Drug Store, the popular druggists, have been in the drug business long enough to have their own opinion of the best way of selling medicines. They say the plan adopted by M-i-o-n-a, the great dyspepsia remedy, is the fairest they have ever heard of. They don't believe that a medicine ought to be paid for unless it does the user some good. And M-i-o-n-a is sold under a positive guarantee to relieve dyspepsia or to refund the money. You simply leave 50 cents on deposit with The People's Drug Store and if, after you have used the box of M-i-o-n-a you decide that it has done you no good, all you have to do is to tell them so and they will return your money.

Hundreds of people have been relieved of stomach agonies by using this remarkable remedy. It is not simply a food digester; it is a medicine that puts all of the digestive organs into normal condition and gives ruddy, glowing, vigorous health. A change for the better will be seen after the first few doses of M-i-o-n-a, and its continued use will soon give the power to eat anything at any time and not suffer distress afterward. Use M-i-o-n-a and see how much more there is in life.

SOME GOOD ADVICE
Strengthened by Gettysburg Experiences.
Kidney disease is too dangerous to neglect. At the first sign of backache, headache, dizziness or urinary disorders, you should give the weakened kidneys prompt attention. Eat little, eat things easier and use a reliable kidney tonic. There's no other kidney medicine so well recommended as Doan's Kidney Pills. Gettysburg people rely on them. Here's one of the many statements from Gettysburg people.
F. C. McCammon, Gettysburg, says: "I first used Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago and I still take them occasionally although I seldom need a kidney medicine. I suffered for quite a while from weak kidneys and a painful back. I tried several remedies and doctored, but with little success, until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They rid me of the pains and aches."
Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. McCammon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD
PEACHES GALORE.
PEACH Imperial.—Soak a tablespoonful of granulated gelatin in a quarter cupful of cold water for a quarter of an hour and dissolve in a third cupful of scalded milk. Add a teaspoonful of vanilla or almond extract and a third cupful of powdered sugar. Allow it to set over cold water, stirring constantly until it begins to jelly slightly, then cut and fold lightly into three cupfuls of cream, well whipped. Serve in long stemmed glasses with quarters of freshly pared peaches arranged point upward around the glass and filled with a dab of stiffly beaten whipped cream and a yellow or deep crimson nasturtium.
Peach Chutney.—Remove the skin and stones from four pounds of peaches, add two and a half cupfuls of vinegar and stew until soft. Mix and pound together four ounces of mustard seed and half a pound each of finely chopped onions, raisins and sugar. Add two teaspoonfuls of salt, a teaspoonful of cinnamon and four cloves of garlic scraped fine. Add ginger and cayenne to taste. If the peaches are sour a little more sugar may be approved. Add another half cupful of vinegar, cook slowly fifteen minutes and put up in small jars. This may be mild or red hot according to the amount of cayenne and ginger used.
Peach Gateau.—Bake a sponge cake in a round cake tin. Cut out the center, leaving a wall about three-quarters of an inch thick on the bottom and sides. Just before serving fill the cake with peaches which have been pared, sliced, sugared and chilled. Pile the top generously with whipped cream, which has been sweetened and flavored. Sprinkle over all some almonds, which have been blanched, chopped and delicately browned in the oven.
Peach Dumplings.—Sift an even quart of flour twice with one and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. Chop into this a tablespoonful of shortening (butter and lard mixed). Mix into a soft dough. Roll the pastry lightly and cut into squares. Take the stones from nice ripe peaches which have been pared, fill the cavity with sugar and wrap each peach neatly in a square piece of the dough. Bake in a moderate oven a nice brown. Eat while fresh, with cream or clear sauce.

SEEK WIVES FOR WOUNDED.
British Rector Launches "League For the Marrying of Broken Heroes."
The Rev. Ernest Houghton, a Bristol rector, has started an appeal to patriotic women of England to give their lives to ameliorate the condition of maimed heroes of the war by marrying them. He has launched a "league for the marrying of broken heroes."
The rector contends that the example of France shows that unions thus arranged promise a greater percentage of happiness than is customary from the methods in England because they are based upon a high degree of selfishness. Strict secrecy is promised as to the identity of women prepared to imitate themselves after the plan of the league until the arrangements for their marriage are complete.

PASSING OF KANSAS FOREST.
Big Tract Will Be Thrown Open to Settlement on Dec. 1.
Despairing of developing it for forest purposes, the United States government has announced the passing of the Kansas National forest in the Sand hill region of western Kansas.
Secretary of the Interior Lane induced President Wilson to throw the tract open to settlement in 320 acre tracts. This will be done Dec. 1. There are 138,720 acres in the forest, of which 3,022 will be retained by the government as a game refuge for a herd of antelope, believed to be the last survivors of this class of game in that section of the country.

Good Treatment For Oily Scalps
Makes Hair Pluffy and Easy to Manage.
Men and women whose hair and scalp are excessively oily have hard work keeping their hair in good condition. Dust and dirt mingle with dandruff, cling to the oily hair and scalp, clog the scalp pores, stiffen the hair roots and make proper cleansing almost impossible.
Parisian Sage is an ideal treatment for this trouble. Wash the hair not oftener than once a week, but use Parisian Sage twice daily, pouring a little into the parted hair and rubbing briskly right into the scalp with the finger tips. It drives out dandruff, dissolves the excess oil and stimulates the scalp into healthy normal action. This simple remedy can be obtained from The People's Drug Store or any drug counter and is very inexpensive.

For President Judge
J. L. BUTT, Esq.,
OF GETTYSBURG
To the Voters of Adams and Fulton Counties:
In the selection of a man for President Judge of this 51st Judicial District, you have in J. L. Butt, Esq., a gentleman born and raised on the farm, and at the present time extensively engaged in farming. No one can argue against the statement that a farmer-lawyer is best fitted as a judge to the people of this district, because of the fact that the population is largely made up of farmers.
It is therefore for the country voters to say on Nov. 2nd whether or not they want an associate in their business to also preside over the legal end of their welfare.
Most naturally Mr. Butt solicits the support of his farmer friends, but he also solicits that of every business and professional man in the district. Of practical legal training, his ability as a Jurist is unquestioned.
Mr. Butt's investments have been chiefly in farms, and it has been through this that he has been brought close to the farmer and his needs. He is a large employer of farm labor, having continuously in his employ from 40 to 80 men, and it is but natural that the farmers of the district give him their hearty support.
Mr. Butt has given you a fair, square answer to the license questions, that he will "impartially and conscientiously" do his duty under the law and the decision of the higher courts. Every voter can understand this. It is the only proper answer that a candidate should give under the law and decisions of the Superior and Supreme Courts.

ANTI VOTE IN JERSEY GROWS

55,800 Majority Against Suffrage Will be Increased.

ONE COUNTY IS IN DOUBT

The Large Number of Ballots Cast on Tuesday, 827,000, a Surprise to Politicians.

Trenton, Oct. 21.—The anti-suffrage forces in New Jersey claimed that they made a clean sweep in the state in Tuesday's special balloting on the votes-for-women question.

The forces opposed to suffrage refused to concede Ocean county, which with the return from eighteen out of thirty-three districts in, shows a majority for suffrage of 201 votes. It is claimed by the anti-s that the fifteen remote districts will wipe out the apparent majority and give even Ocean county to the side opposed to the cause. If this holds good, suffrage will have lost in all of the twenty-one counties in the state.

The returns from all but 169 voting districts show a majority against suffrage of 55,831 votes. This total will be increased by the complete returns. President Wilson's trip from Washington to vote for votes-for-women in Princeton was of little, if any, avail for the suffragists lost not only Princeton but the president's own voting district. All the suffragists have is the hope that they carried Ocean county.

Politicians are amazed at the heavy vote cast in the special election. The total number of ballots voted will reach about 827,000. In the election for governor two years ago, 878,317 votes were cast, and in the presidential election in 1912 the total vote in the state for president was 172,889 and the vote for suffrage fell only about 37,000 short of that.

In the first annoyance of defeat the suffrage leaders declared they had been beaten by fraud, machine politics and the liquor interests. The returns from all over the state showing that they had possibly carried only one county caused them to modify their statements. It is true that the organization leaders on both sides and the liquor interests were against votes for women, but the amendment was beaten in communities in which neither the liquor interests nor political machines are in control.

The special election buries the question of woman suffrage in New Jersey for five years. There can be no amendment bearing upon votes for women submitted to the people before the expiration of that period.

Tuesday's election was the first test in any eastern state of woman suffrage.

Two other proposed constitutional amendments went down to defeat with suffrage. One permitted voting on amendments at any time, and the other was the so-called excess condemnation amendment.

Hundreds of women in cities and towns got their first insight into practical politics while acting as watchers and challengers. On the whole they got fair treatment. In some cases their authority was questioned causing ill feeling and delay. Remarks of bystanders annoyed some of them, and their charges of electioneering in violation of law often went unheeded.

Two things which they claimed made for fraud were that ballots were unnumbered, and the fact that voter could register and turn right around and vote without giving any one a chance to determine whether he was a legal voter.

The Davis child was born about a week ago, although the announcement was not made until Tuesday, and the Hayes child was born Wednesday. Mrs. Will Davis Hayes was formerly Miss Elizabeth McEuen Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. B. Davis, and Mr. Hayes is the youngest son of J. A. Hayes.

BALKAN BLUNDERING MADE CARSON QUIT

Tells Commons Situation Needs Decisive Policy.

London, Oct. 21.—While Premier Asquith's illness has had the effect of producing a greater air of calm in political circles than would otherwise have attended the resignation of Sir Edward Carson from the cabinet rumors of further impending changes continue.

Sir Edward Carson announced in the house of commons that his resignation from the attorney generalship was due to divergence of views in regard to near eastern affairs.

He made it clear that his retirement was not due to any disagreement over the aim of defeating Germany, but only regarding the manner in which it could be done most quickly and most successfully.

"There is not, and never has been, in the cabinet, in parliament or in the country," he said, "any disagreement as to the necessity of carrying on the war, at all sacrifices, to a final and conclusive issue."

Declaring that the political situation is one calling for a "decisive policy," Sir Edward continued: "I have been unable to agree with the government's policy, although I had no personal disagreement with Mr. Asquith. I felt that my presence in the cabinet would not be serviceable to the country, so stepped out. I hold strong views, but conscientiously and patriotically; I have ever been actuated solely by the interests of the country. When I entered the cabinet it was committed to a Gallipoli expedition, but it was plain that the new theatre of war in the Balkans has created a situation which could not be divorced from the position at the Dardanelles."

TURKS GOILED BABY ALIVE

Made Armenian Mother Heat Water, Bound Her and Took Child's Life.

Philadelphia, Oct. 21.—Letters telling of Turkish cruelties practiced upon the Armenians have been received by Reuben Kashishia, an Armenian living at 6128 Media street, this city.

These letters come from a friend named Varis, who is in Paris, and the information Varis forwards comes in turn from his wife.

Mrs. Varis is in Hagat, Persian Armenia, whither she fled to escape the outrages in Turkish Armenia. In her letters to her husband, whose contacts Mr. Varis has sent to his friend in Philadelphia, Mrs. Varis describes in detail the cruelties of the Turks.

One horrible instance was that in connection with the desecration of an Armenian household by Turkish officers. They ordered the woman of the home to boil water. After she had done this, she was directed to place her baby in the water. Refusing, she was bound, and before her eyes the child was immersed and died an agonizing death.

All the Armenians who do not accept the Mohammedan faith are massacred by the Turks, the letters say. Many are first tortured by having their ears and noses slashed off.

How Molly Burton Saved Jim Hodson's Mining Shares

By SADIE OLCOTT

Molly Burton was a western woman of the early days, when every man was a gambler, a horse thief, a miner or something worse than any of these. Molly kept a boarding house and was well known to all the miners who were all men. There was nothing suspicious about Molly, but she was considered perfectly straight. The only dissipation she indulged in was gambling, and this with her was a passion. If she had dollars to stake she would play dollars; if she had cents it would be penny ante. She always played a fair game and would take no charity from any one. Once when an opponent bet to lose purposely in order to enable her to recoup she told him that if he did it again there would be no more play between them.

Jim Hodson was a miner who had struck it big. It was while he was developing a claim that he came to Molly Burton's house to board. She used to play penny ante with him, but would never consent to a considerable stake. She said that he needed all his money to get his claim in condition to offer on the market. She also saw to it that he did not fall into the hands of card sharps. If she saw him playing with one of the fraternity she would ask him for a loan, thereby getting his money out of his hands.

One day Hodson struck a vein that made his property very valuable. A company was formed which gave him a large block of stock with plenty of cash down. He accepted the position of superintendent. When not engaged in his duties at the mine he played cards at Molly Burton's. Despite all her efforts to prevent it he was soon stuck for some $20,000. Molly played with him in order to keep him from playing with any one else. He knew she would take no charity from him, so he played to win. In the long run they stood nearly even.

One day a man got hold of Hodson and was playing him for all he was worth when Molly interfered. From that time forward Molly kept Hodson playing with her all his spare time, and it soon came to be noticed by those who overlooked the game that she was cheating him. This caused great surprise, because Molly was known to be square with every one, especially Jim Hodson. No one said anything to her about her manipulation of the cards. That was none of their business, and any of them would gladly see her gain.

It was not known to any one besides Hodson and Molly how much of his money she was relieving him of, but it was considerable. One night when they were playing together alone Jim said to Molly:

"If you clean me out, Moll, what'll you do with the funds?"

"Marry a good for nothing man."

"Don't see what such a first class woman as you wants with a good for nothing man."

"Well, a weak woman wouldn't; a strong one would. It's our opposites we like."

They were playing ordinary euchre. Molly was "turning Jack" on her victim, dealing herself hands to match the trump and every now and again proposing to raise the stake. Hodson was very thing slaughtered, but he had no faculty for cards and was blind as a bat to sleight of hand. Besides, he never dreamed that Molly would cheat. Moreover, there was no money on the table; he was continually signing I. O. U.'s. The truth is he had lost all his cash and was signing away his stock in the mine. Molly knew how many shares he owned, and, keeping count in her head, she was aware that she had I. O. U.'s for 90 per cent of them. When she took in the final tenth she called a halt and said:

"Jim, how many shares in your mine do you own?"

"Fifty thousand."

Molly took up the I. O. U.'s and, adding the amounts on them, figured up 53,000 shares. Jim turned pale.

"You're a good man, Jim," said Molly, "and I'm going to give you a chance to win back your property." Writing something on the back of one of the I. O. U.'s, she folded it and told him to put it in his pocket.

"I'll play all I have won from you against what's on that paper."

Jim begged to know what it was, but she wouldn't tell him. He was desperate enough to accept any terms, so he consented. He proposed euchre, but Molly substituted a showdown poker hand, with Jim for dealer, saying that she wanted him to be sure that there was no shenanigan. Jim said he was sure of that already. They concluded to make it the best in three hands, and Jim dealt the first hand. Molly won, drawing a king with aces and sevens. Jim had no pair. The second hand Jim won on tens and deuces. His hand trembled as he dealt the third time, and when the cards were drawn he showed the queen of hearts high against Jack high.

Without waiting for Molly to hand over his I. O. U.'s he took out the paper she had given him, unfolded it and read a single word—

"Yourself."

It required some time to get the meaning through his head, though he was assisted by a mild blush on Molly's face. When he understood he reached across the table and took Molly in his arms.

This is how Molly saved Jim Hodson's interest in a mine which eventually became enormously valuable.
